HONGKONG, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1881. WE have great pleasure in noting th fact that a Free Distiensary has pened in the London Mission Society's Chapel in Taipingshau for poor Chinese. his laudable endeavour has been made by what is now known as the Hongkong Medical Mission, and every we wisher of the Chinese will, we are sure hail the incident with satisfaction. Dispensary was opened on the 4th inst... when eight applicants for medicine were attended to: and since that time from 25 to 30 natives have applied for advice and medicine during each moraing which the Dispensary has been open. W. Young has kindly undertaken superintend the dispensing for the pre-

in the Islands; its vortex is going to pass sent; and the Mission Chapel is open on three mornings in every week for an hour and a half. More than 150 applications on the part of the poorer classes in Taipingshan have therefore been responded to during the fortnight that the experiment has lasted; so that the at tempt, so far as it has gone, may pronounced a decided success. It intended to develop this movement that a Hospital for the Chinese may formed here, for the purpose of following in the wake of the institution in Canton conducted so successfully, under auspices of the Medical Missionary Society in China, by Dr Kerr. The now amashed up as an unprincipled swindle nucleus of the funds for this object has The letters are nearly all fully and to all been supplied by a gift of $5,000 from appearance properly addressed, and an old resident; and as a small Committee has been temporarily formed to push forward the movement, the liberality of the community, both native and foreign, or two cases, elsewhere than in indefinite will no doubt son be called upon to sup- addresses. Half a dozen or so are for port this really deserving project. An apsent Home for the services of a medical they might have missed at the port they missionary under the suspices of the were sent to. Into this no creeds. peculiarities of religious view need ever intrude : the results are not only practical and substantial, but broad as humanity itself. Although probably new to most of our readers, this dispensing Service. In these cases faulty construction, work is not altegether unknown in the past history of Hongkong. In 1843 the first Dispensory of the kind was opened here by the Rev Dyer Ball, M.D. who was three years afterwards removed to Canton. A Hospital was built here in 1843 and placed under the care Dr. B. Hobson which was continued up to 1847, when these missionary pioneers appear to have made a move upon Canton city, and the work of dispensing seems then to have devolved upon Dr Hirschberg, of the London Mission, who took charge of the Hospital until 1853. Since then little or nothing has been done in this branch of good work in the Colony; and this new movement will surmisings; and the possible collapse of probably be again aided by the London

THERE would appear to be no end of the stormy reports this season; and as late storms have shown features so unusual and remarkable, the safest course will be merely to reproduce the following telegram from the Director of the Observatory, Manila, to the Governor here :-

-Received 4.15 p.m.-A typhoon is raging

In another column we publish a list "dead letters"-letters which have been returned from various places where the addresses cannot be found. Of these nine were posted at Shanghai. If not claimed within ten days, these letters will all be opened and returned to the writers. One we note is refused by the office of Protector of Chinese, Singapore. Two are registered; one of these being another draft for the Rodanow Manufacturing Company, Boston, cause of their being returned through this channel must be looked for, in all save one s gift as the community could tender tosteamer passengers, or for vessels which wards the shipwrecked crew, at the present moment thrown upon its hands, and some means of collecting the money and distributing it proportionally to the men of the ship could easily be devised. Ir cannot be said that the inquiry goncernsatisfactory, although it must at the same time be admitted that nothing like specific carelessess or negligence was proved on the part of the Royal Engineer branch of the age and decay, and equinoctial storms sometimes furnish a concatenation of circumstances which make people wonder why pieces of masonry do not yield earlier to their tendency to collapse. But it seems to us that there is a weakness somewhere the system which fails to detect the approach of such accidents, although it may be difficult to show wherein that weakness lies. If no inspection could possibly have prevented or anticipated the fall of the ornamental chinmey-stack at Murray Barracks, of course there is an end to all any other part of the Government build Mission, who were the last labourers in lings similarly conditioned must merely be awaited for as calmly as may be. It is at the same time to be regretted that stacks which so completely baffle the skill of inspection should ever be erected where human life is likely to be sacrificed.

In reference to this subject, it may be suggested that the Royal Engineer Department, or some other independent authority, should be called upon to report upon the falling in of the Soc-kum-poo Market, which event also resulted in the death of one Chinaman. It has been said that the unsafe condition of this structure had been statements will doubtless be established by the Coroner and his Jury; and if they take as much pains as were expended upon the military stack, an approximately satisfactory. verdict may be looked for.

They say that there is a large amount of clothes in the stores of the Institution, piled up from floor to ceiling; but that they are denied the enjoyment of those protections to their bodies. They also say that in their treatment by the Shipping Master there, who is a Portuguese, they have been subjected to an irritating amount of mubbing and to other unpleasantnesses. Many other sailors in the Home corroborate their complaining statements; and there seems to be every reason for those who are in charge of the Institution sconer or later instituting an enquiry as to the impropriety or otherwise of the system under which the establishment is governed. The "Manila, 18th October, 1881, 3.51 p.m. Darticular reason which has led us to refer at the present moment to this subject is the great necessity in which these men stand by want of clothes. The prospectus states that no delay need take place in commencing the company's operations. Extensive abbattoirs, lairages and cooling houses are already in existence at one port of shipment, of which the company can at once take advantage, and it proposed to erect others without delay. is likewise intended, if necessary, to have i London or elsewhere one or more warehouses, cooled by the above indicated process, where the meat can be received and kept until sold, thereby obvisting the necessity of its being unduly forced upon the market. The promoters estimate that when the company is in full working order, two cargoes a month, of 200 tons each, can be imported and sold. If this should be attained it would probably represent a probable profit of about £66,000 a year, or over 50 per cent. fipon the nominal capital. On the board are Mr. W. J. R. Cotton, M.P., Mr. Jas. Jackson, Mr. Sampson S. Lloyd, Mr. Laidley Mort, of Mort and Co., Sydney, Mr. Thomas Salt and Mr. Arthur Van de Velde, late first secretary to the Belgian Legation in England.

afternoon, about twenty minutes past one, witness was called by Mr Stolterfoht, who saked him to proceed to the house No. 1 Albany. On arriving there witness was shown into a bed-room on the upper floor, and there found deceased sitting on a couch. Blood was coming from a wound in the forehead. He had a revolver lying on his lap near his right hand. He was breathing heavily but regularly, and the pulse was good. The heavy breathing was in part caused by the flow of blood into the mouth. He was quite thinking at first that perhaps the bullet had not penetrated the skull, but found a large piece of brain protruding. The wound presented the appearance of a protrusion of the skin of a dark bluish colour, with a small On looking at the revolver he found all the chambers leaded with the exception of one. It was a five-chambered one. As the left hand was all blackened and besprinkled with blood, witness was of opinion that deceased must have put his left hand to his forehead to steady the revolver and then Deceased remained alive for two hours after the occurrence. Witness removed the blood from his throat and mouth so as to make the breathing free. There no doubt, of course, that the disease which raged so fiercely at tife Pootung dairy was rinderpest, and we may congratulate ourselves that it appears at present to have worn itself out, At least it has not spread. The native cattle are pronounced to be all in good health, and 'the Farm,' which is the principal reservoir of milk in Shanghai, s also quite free from the disease. There a, however, no guarantee for the future. the cattle-plague were to break out at the Farm to-morrow, Shanghai would be in a very great measure deprived of its suppl of milk, and a more serious thing for children and invalids it would be difficult to conceive. In view of this possibility, we understand that a project has been formed for the establishment of the Farm on a new basis. O course the scheme is as yet in nubibus : but the proposal is, we believe, that the farmstock should be considerably increased, and then divided among four distinct farmyards, having one depot for the sale or delivery of the farm produce. This would naturally involve the investment of much new capital, and if the scheme is ever formally laid before the public, it will be for them to judge of its merits before giving their support. We hear that the extension of the presentestablishment would have been taken in hand long ere this by Mr Ferguson himself had he been able to afford it, but the preliminary expenses connected with ourchase of land and the erection of new buildings are altogether beyond his means.

MR R. STEIL'S Freight Circular for the Mail of Monday, 17th October, says :-

The Freight market has experienced but little change since the issue of last Circular. Coast employment has been difficult to obtain, and Home freights have also continned dull and inactive. Homewards, a few settlements have been effected from the Philippines at comparatively low rates, the demand from there is, nowever, moderate. The inquiry for vessels from this port to London or to New York continues very limited, and rates are

Coastwise, some demand exists for small steamers to Haiphong and back, but the rate offered (about 15 cents per picul) is not sufficiently remunerative to induce business. From Saigon scarcely any offers are obtainable, and nothing of importance can be expected from that port until the new rice comes forward, about the end of the year. A few small vessels have been chartered for Newchwang and back from outports, and therewith the season for sailing vessels may be considered closed, there is, however, a slight demand for steamers in the same direction at low rates of 25 to 26 cents per occasion at some length to explain how the

THE CHINA REVIEW.

TITHE widely-expressed regret at the dissimilar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octave pages, acasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the paper published demand, and the circulation jutify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $1,50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance. The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Mannes and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibot, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed listof subjects upon which contributions an especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, tuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Roview department. Notes and Replies are clusified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to pavious Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in band. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for Julyand August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Oristianity for the development of a State, ill our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repertory of what scholars are ascertaining about Ohina. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in his volume is alone worth the price of the Review. dress China Review, Honglong.-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.)

Trubner's Oriental Record matains the foilowing notice of the China Review :- " This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached is from Hongkong, where it has been stop foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan the extinction of which useful serial a yearer two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as In Chins. Thepresent publication, judging by the number now before a is intended to occupy a position, as regard China and the peighbouring countries, smowhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Colcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been hestoval of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studie, has led to the accumulation of important sores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided stremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and themissionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's Sie King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinesenovels and plays are marked by both accurey and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesmy of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of Review, if carried ou with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queria" are destined to find a place in its pagualso. It is to be that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the listime of its predecessor in the field, and the the China Review may receive the support secessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will

Money Order Regulations.

1 - Money Orders are exchanged with the United Kingdom, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia and Port Darwin, the Straits Settlements, Western Australia, and (except at Shanghai) with the Japanese Empire. Hongkong also issues orders on Shanghai, and vice versa.

2.—Small sams may be remitted between the other Ports by means of Postage 14 Stamps, subject to a charge of one per M cent. for cashing them.

3.—Many Money Orders are supplied to residents at the smaller Ports in this way. An application for an order* is filled up, and is enclosed with a stamped, directed and unscaled envelope to the Postmaster at the nearest issuing office. The application must be accompanied with the full amount (including commission) in cheque, postage stamps, or other equivalent of cash, and little margin should be left for variations of exchange. The Postmaster issues the order, sends it on in the envelope, and returns the change, if any, by first opportunity, with a receipt for the letter, if it were to be registered, as it always should be. Care should be taken to send these applications in time, as the Money Order Offices close some hours before the departures of the mails.

4.—No order must exceed £10, or $50, | Ichang or include any fraction of a penny, nor will more than two such orders be issued to the same person, in favour of the same payee, by the same mail. Orders will be drawn at the current rate of the day and paid at the rate of the day when the advice arrived.
